

Working With Women Who

Working with women who are survivors of domestic violence

Louise Everitt, *Clinical Midwifery Consultant, Complex Pregnancy Care, St George Hospital

Louise Everitt is a Clinical Midwifery Consultant in Complex Pregnancy Care at St George Public Hospital. She has been a midwife for 33 years holding various clinical, management, education and research roles. She is passionate about caring for vulnerable families and raising awareness about family violence, mental health and child protection. She is a Fellow of ACM and Clinical Fellow at UTS PhD candidate at Western Sydney University to design, implement and evaluate an Perinatal interprofessional Psychosocial Education Program for maternity clinicians.

Rebecca O'Reilly, *Senior Lecturer at Western Sydney University

Dr Rebecca O'Reilly is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Nursing and Midwifery at Western Sydney University. Rebecca has enjoyed a rich, diverse and successful career as a Registered Nurse and Midwife across clinical and academic arenas. Over her academic career Rebecca has completed her Master of Clinical Nursing and Doctor of Philosophy and experienced success in a number of leadership positions including Director of Academic Programs, Undergraduate.

Rebecca is passionate about research that has tangible outcomes for Women's and Children's Health, with a focus on Domestic and Family Violence. She has achieved research success with numerous research grants, publications and conference presentations in this area.